

LEVYING ON THE SALARIES

Tom Taggart's Corruption Fund to Be Increased by the Office-Holders.

Candidates, Too, on Prospective Emoluments, Called Upon to Pay 20 Per Cent.—Sullivan's Stable—Saloon-Keepers on Pay-Roll.

TAGGART'S CORRUPTION FUND.

Office-Holders and Candidates Must Provide Money for the Boys.

The Democratic city committee is gathering an enormous campaign fund. In addition to the big contributions from the street-railroad company, the English brewery syndicate, the gas companies and other big corporations interested in retaining control of the city government the finance committee has ordered a 20-per-cent. assessment upon all the candidates, and all term "candidates" includes all the Democrats holding appointive positions under the Sullivan administration. The assessment of each is fixed upon a basis of 20 per cent. of one year's salary. As shown yesterday this list aggregates $47,680, but of this $18,800 is paid to Republican members of boards and the one Republican employee, Will Phillips. These Republicans will probably escape the assessment, as will City Clerk Swift and his deputy, Bushong, who have $57,200 of official salaries to be assessed. But candidate Abrams and candidate Baskirk must also be assessed on their prospective salaries, aggregating $3,000. This gives a total amount of $42,500, which, assessed at 20 per cent., will realize $8,500 to swell the Democratic campaign fund.

This will catch Mayor Sullivan for $800, which will break his heart; Controller Woolen for $600, Abrams for $600, Baskirk for $800, Messrs. Condit and Scherer each for $400, Engineer Mansfield for $200, Building Inspector Fitcher for $200, clerk Steeg for $200, deputy Perrott for $200, clerk Ripley for $200, Messrs. Holt and Sullivan, of the Board of Public Safety, each for $80, and others connected with the administration for various amounts, according to the salaries they are drawing.

The clerks of the various departments were feeling pretty sick over the matter yesterday, when a Journal reporter made inquiry among them. They feel that they have no surplus but they are not. They are, 1, and this heavy assessment cuts their salaries down to such a figure that they could make more money outside. Ripley, of the Health Board, was the only one who was feeling at all easy about it. He figures it out on a basis of two years and claims it is only a 10 per cent. assessment when looked at upon that basis. That is all right from the point of view but the clerks and other officials, who come in with the charter and have only held office since last spring, can't see it that way. It absorbs from one-fourth to one-third of what they have made, and it hurts.

If, in addition to this, they are compelled to pay back to the city the difference between their salaries as originally fixed by the charter and the figures to which they were liable, life will not be worth living at all. It will be noted that in nearly all cases this assessment for the Democratic corruption fund is about equal to the excess of the salaries the officials are drawing over what they are legally entitled to. This money is being collected from the city to help out the hopeless Democratic campaign.

There can be but one purpose in collecting this large campaign fund. The party has no tickets to print, no other election expenses. All these are paid by the city. Its only legitimate expenses are for having polls taken, and for handling poll-books at election. These could not cost over $1,000. Yet an assessment of over $8,500 is made on the city officials and candidates in addition to the contributions of the quasi-public corporations, which will at least double the amount. What will become of the money? It will unquestionably go for corrupt purposes, to buy votes, either directly or indirectly, to blow men into de boys, and in a word, to conduct the sort of a campaign in which "Tom Taggart" is an adept.

MUST FACE A DEFICIT.

Admissions by the Chief Deputy of Sullivan's Chief Financier.

There was a great stewing around the city offices yesterday. Mayor Sullivan, Councilman Rasmussen, the controller's deputy, News and Sentinel reporters and lesser lights were hunting about getting up figures to answer those of the Journal. Whether the crowd or the News alone is responsible for the statement that the loan of $100,000, made Jan. 1, 1890, was payable by the Sullivan administration or not is not known, but it is a barefaced falsehood whoever made it. The stub of the loan-book shows a temporary loan made Dec. 31, 1890, which was pointed out to a Journal reporter yesterday afternoon by Deputy Controller Perrott. The Councilmen of the preceding administration, however, disclaim any knowledge of such a loan, and had it been made at that time the authors of the Sullivan-Woolen-Mansfield speech would not have forgotten to mention it. "Why didn't you get your figures right?" asked Sam Perrott of the Journal reporter, in reference to those published yesterday. The reporter replied that the monthly figures varied from month to month and he simply gave fair approximations of the averages. A letter was then sent to the records and the reporter read the figures from the Journal while Perrott looked up the books. "It says the expenditure and payroll of the police and fire departments average $17,000 per month," said the reporter.

"The combined pay-rolls are only about $18,000," replied Perrott.

"But how about expense account?" Mr. Perrott couldn't say. The books of the Board of Public Safety show that $2,000 per month is a fair average for these.

"The Journal says," continued the reporter, "that the street commissioner's payroll runs about $800 per week. What was it last week?"

"Eight hundred and twenty-five dollars," it says the engineer's payroll is about $1,000 per month. What was it last month?"

"One thousand three hundred and forty dollars and fifty-five cents," it says the electric light bill is $1,041.25 per month. What was last month's?"

"One thousand and fifteen dollars," it says the gas bill is nearly $8,000 per month. What was it last month?"

"$8,328.15," it says the vapor light bill is about $300 per month. What was it last month?"

"It says the hospital and dispensary cost about $2,000 per month. What did they cost last month?"

"Hospital and branch $1,702.40, and dispensary $206.30," it says.

"That's all the expenses except what the Board of Public Works has to spend yet, and I see by the trial balance, that it is expected to still spend $147,000, instead of only $80,000. How about the estimates of what the November taxes will bring?"

"Wasn't $175,000 a fair estimate?"

"Well, yes," replied Mr. Perrott, "about $175,000 or $180,000."

"Then, with monthly expenses aggregating $32,000 or more for five months and $147,000 for the Board of Public Works yet to spend, how are you going to get away from a big deficit?"

"Just as they usually do, by a temporary loan."

Tomlinson Hall accounts.....	173.06
Water.....	11,069.51
Incidental expenses.....	314.00
Streets and alleys.....	93,789.29
Sewers.....	3,065.36
Cemeteries.....	4,879.72
Fountains and wells.....	229.00
Bridges.....	1,617.00
City Hospital repairs.....	1,300.00
Illinois-street tunnel.....	10,000.00
Public light.....	12,266.26

Total.....$147,570.48

The credit for street repairs has been since spent, and those for the engineer and street commissioner are figured in among the running expenses, but deducting these, the Board of Public Works has still to spend about $135,000 instead of only the $80,000 of street improvements thus far ordered. This will make the deficit figure out about $100,000 instead of only $50,000, and after paying the January interest of $2,500 the city will have to carry a floating debt of over $100,000.

Saloon-Keepers on the Pay-Roll.

This great Sullivan reform administration kneels to the saloon-keepers upon all occasions. The Board of Public Safety has the job of keeping them solid by allowing them to keep open all day on Sundays and all night every night, and Pat Harold supplements its work by putting their teams, their brothers, cousins and uncles on his pay-roll. But even this is not enough, and two of them are on the city engineer's payroll. Barney Kelly and John Agnew, when one of these places was vacant a young man, now a member of the Democratic city committee, was an applicant, but failed to get the job. The reformers wanted saloon-keepers. A Journal reporter yesterday asked City Engineer Mansfield if he had Kelly and John Agnew were upon his payroll.

"Yes," he replied.

"I have a vote to be effected that both are saloon-keepers. Is it true?"

"That's a d—n lie," retorted the engineer. "Neither of them has a saloon." The reporter, having had some previous experience with City Engineer Mansfield, failed to take his word for it and went to the records. He found that the government had issued a liquor license to ex-Alderman Riley and John Agnew, who have bought out McCreary's old place on Illinois street. He also found that a liquor license had been issued to this same Bernard Kelly to sell at the corner of Garden (sometimes called Henry) and Tennessee streets. The city license for this Kelly saloon is in the name of "Mike" Garity, park policeman for Military Park, employed by the Board of Public Works.

Sullivan Needs Watching.

The thirteenth precinct, in the Second Ward, of course, is Republican. It could not be anything else, but the Democratic poll just completed there has been padded, or there has been a violation of the law in the interest of that party. The matter is a pretense, Mayor Thomas L. Sullivan. Sullivan not only stamped on justice in arranging the gerrymander of the wards, but openly violated the law in putting into precincts more voters than there should be. The city engineer, who is paid for his services for fair elections, says "each precinct shall contain, as nearly as practicable, two hundred and fifty voters." The law says that "if at any election there shall be more than two hundred and fifty voters shall be cast," the inspector in such precinct must "report the same to the Board of County Commissioners, who shall, at their next regular meeting, divide such precinct as equally as possible so that the new precincts formed thereof shall each contain two hundred and fifty voters, as practicable." What is thus imposed upon the County Commissioners is imposed upon the city. The city is thus forced to pay for city elections. The precinct poll named shows 380 voters, 130 more than there ought to be.

Stable Good Enough for Them.

A story characteristic of Mayor Sullivan's regard for what he considers the "riff-ruff" of his party is going the rounds. "The man who considers his stable good enough for me," said a Democrat of the fifty-third precinct, Sixth ward, yesterday, "can never have my vote. We've been in the habit of holding our primaries in a barber-shop and paying $10 for the use of it. This year when the question of a place came up Sullivan said there was no use spending this money. The primary could be held in his stable. 'I'll have my nigger sweep it out,' said he, and I guess it will do." The primary was held in Sullivan's stable among the pungent odors and had a real nice, sweet-scented time. He might as well have invited his Democratic neighbors into his kitchen, but even that was too good for them.

A Dirty Trick of the Truly Good.

Fred Gaul, Democratic ex-councilman, was yesterday arrested on a charge of retailing liquors without a city license, filed by Harry Nolan. This move was a part of the plot of the Sullivan administration, through such henchmen as John Higgins, John Coleman and Lucid, to entrap Messrs. Herod and Sullivan. It was "blow out" and have them "write up in the papers." The arrest was made in order to entrap the candidates as witnesses. They could not have planned the gentlemen's arrest, but now a lot of contemptible lies by the two Democratic organs can be introduced in evidence. As stated in the Journal the next morning, Messrs. Herod and Smith stopped at Gaul's on their way from a meeting with the anti-Sullivan men in that city. They were met by a crowd and conversed with them just as they would stop and shake hands and talk with a crowd anywhere, even with a crowd of Democrats invited to Mayor Sullivan's stable. It will be an easy matter to disprove in court the false statements that they drank there or "treated" the crowd.

His Walkers Are English.

Randall J. Abrams, the Democratic nominee for city clerk, seems to be more kinds of a prize "joke" than one could enumerate in a day. The other afternoon he was passing around a Baltimore paper telling all about what a fine man he was. It all went smoothly enough until a reporter read the notice, and saw at the bottom of it the complimentary remarks of a "Wrote me a letter," Abrams left. But this "break" was mild compared with the one he made when he had this notice inserted in the afternoon Democratic organ, the News, on Friday:

DOESN'T WANT TO BE THOUGHT A JEW.

R. J. Abrams, Democratic candidate for city clerk, says in his best story, "I don't want to be thought a Jew. There is not a word of truth in this," he said.

My father was an Englishman, who came to America from London in 1828, and my mother was Miss Condon, of Dublin, Ireland.

Mr. Abrams wants it distinctly understood that he and his whiskers "are quite English, you know."

Street-Railroad Machine.

The street-railroad company seems very bold in its work for the Democratic party.

One of its conductors, Eli Hendricks, was engaged in polling North Tennessee street for the Democratic committee the other day. He made no pretense of acting as a private citizen, but kept his railroad railroad uniform on. The days of Tom Johnson, when the company was nothing but a Democratic machine, seem to have returned.

They Will Make Themselves Known.

Gen. M. D. Manson was in the city the other day returning from the national encampment of the Grand Army to his home at Crawfordsville. "You weren't at Detroit, were you?" asked the veteran. "Well, you ought to have been there. It was a great event. People who saw it couldn't help thinking. It signifies something. There are a good many of us here yet, and we are a power in the land. I wish the young men of the last Legislature could

CULLINGS FROM THE COURTS.

Mrs. Aber, the Religious Enthusiast, Taken to the Hospital for the Insane.

Mrs. Aber, who walked with her daughter to Broad Ripple the other day, both being dressed as Sisters of Charity, was declared insane yesterday by Justices of the Peace Feibleman and Hachich. Drs. Epp and Beck furnished the medical evidence required. Mrs. Aber told the doctors that she was instructed by God to found the order of "Sisters of Poverty," and that it was necessary she should leave her home and refuse further support from her husband on account of his insulting God. Dr. Epp said her influence over her daughter will lead to the injury, direct injury, Matron Buchanan reported that during the two nights and days of their confinement in the station-house Mrs. Aber, Mrs. Aber, very little, and yesterday morning refused to eat anything but the scraps left from the day before. She would, but for the matron, have eaten a great deal of bare food, and when not reclining or reading the Bible would walk in a circle about the cage, singing hymns in a kind of a very low voice. She spent much time on the floor reading the Bible with her child by her side, and the matron says her knowledge of the Bible and ability to interpret difficult passages in a forcible way would almost convince one against his will that she was a saint. Mrs. Aber seized her daughter when the officers called, yesterday, to take the woman to the hospital for the insane, and said if she would not let her go, she would not let her go. The officers pulled her from her child, and yesterday morning she was taken to the hospital. The girl was taken home by her father.

Notes from the Doekets.

D. H. Fennimore, sent to prison five weeks on a two months sentence for handling green goods, was released yesterday on commutation of time.

Joseph A. West and Jacob B. Zook, arrested at Marion charged with violation of the revenue law, selling without license, have been bound over in $200 each for action by the United States district court.

A decree of foreclosure and order of sale was made in the United States Circuit Court yesterday in the case of Joel Overland and others against the estate of the late Frank L. Sullivan. The amount is $7,000, and the land is located in Grant county.

Fine Crops and Cheap Sugar.

District Attorney Chambers has returned from a visit to southern Indiana. He found the farmers all in high glee. The barns are full of overflowing with wheat and a large crop of corn is coming on. Old farmer Polk, near Vincennes, has given out that he intends to quit farming, as he finds it too much trouble to take care of his wheat, let alone the other crops. The other day a Democrat went into a grocer's at a small county village and asked for a dollar's worth of sugar. The grocer put up one large package, then another, and after that another. "I asked only for a dollar's worth," growled the buyer.

"That's what I'm giving you," said the grocer.

"What, all that?"

"Yes, that's all that comes!"

"Well, you see the McKinley law—" the dealer began in explanation.

The McKinley law! Great Scott! give me only half a dollar's worth. I'll take all that home my wife will make me vote the Republican ticket."

Ex-Postmaster Lemcke's Trip.

Ex-Postmaster Lemcke has received a letter from ex-State Treasurer Lemcke, who with his wife is now at Wiesbaden, Germany. "On our way here," he writes, "we made a stay of one month at Hamburg, the city of my birth. I left it when a boy of thirteen and had not seen it for over forty-four years. One week's time we devoted to imperial Berlin, which, since the Franco-Prussian war, has taken on Chicago proportions and prosperity. There we visited young friends, Ernst, Siegfried, and Alfred, who are now in the German army. We were well received by the German soldiers and sailors' monument. We engaged with him to be in attendance on the 12th of August in the city of Munich, at his wedding. He insists that my wife and I are to take the place of his dead parents and give him the same as at the wedding of his late people like us." Mr. Lemcke writes that his health has greatly improved.

INTERESTS OF THE STATE FAIR.

Special Attractions Secured—Efforts of the Board to Advance the Enterprise.

President Erwin, John B. Conner, W. B. Holton and James A. Wildman, of the Board of Trade committee chosen for the purpose, met last evening at the Denison House with several members of the State Board of Agriculture, where a short and informal conversation ensued on matters pertaining to the forthcoming State fair. One of the topics discussed was the propriety of issuing an address to the manufacturers, business men and citizens of Indianapolis generally, asking their co-operation in making the fair a success. Special attractions were then taken up, but nothing conclusive was done, except in regard to the fact that the books of the lodge were once destroyed by fire in the Hereth Block, and had to be opened again from memory. The lodge has had two factions for some time, one demanding Lockyer's removal with the other defending him. A committee of investigation prepared a report, extenuating Lockyer from misdeeds of the funds, but the opposition has broken up the meeting when an attempt to report was made. At the meeting Monday night there was an effort to remove Lockyer, but his friends were in the majority.
